

Tell the Story of Research The PlumX™ Suite

The PlumX™ Suite is a series of products that help anyone involved in research, whether they fund, perform or publish, understand and tell the stories of the research.

The PlumX Suite products gather many different kinds of metrics that get created when people interact with research output and provide ways to categorize and analyze these metrics.

PlumX Metrics – Get more value from your Institutional Repository.

PlumX Metrics allows you to get more value from an institutional repository (IR) by embedding the metrics about the research directly. These metrics are about the different versions of the same article – not just the one in the IR, so your authors can see the impact and reach of their research in just one place. This makes your IR a more valuable place for research.

PlumX Dashboards – Know what is going on with your research. Without waiting years.

In addition to gathering and embedding metrics, PlumX Dashboards gives you a way to know what is going on with your research. You can organize your research into user-defined groups and hierarchies to analyze and understand what is happening with research in your organization. You can organize metrics by groups within your organization such as by department, by lab, by subject, by journal or any other group where you need to tell the story of research.

PlumX +Grants – Gain insight about your grants.

PlumX +Grants takes metrics and dashboards a step further by categorizing and analyzing metrics by grant. Whether you receive or give grants, now you can see the impact of those grants. By using PlumX +Grants you can more easily tell the stories of your grant-funded research to your funder, to new funders, your donors or other constituents.

PlumX Benchmarks – See how you compare. Now.

The world is constantly interacting with research. These interactions go far beyond citations. With PlumX Benchmarks, for the first time you can compare how you are doing in this new realm with other like institutions. For example, is your social media program as robust as your neighboring institution? Is your research getting as many captures - a leading indicator of citations? Now, you have insight before citations.

Finding newly available grants is essential for researchers. PlumX Funding Opportunities helps you do that by providing a robust search tool from within the PlumX Suite platform.
